

Greetings Cultural Supporter!

The Arts Community of Easton is proud to announce that the Annual Riverside Festival of the Arts is sprouting its wings for the 22nd time. Thank you to the many volunteers and donors that make this event possible. We are excited that Lafayette College Director of Community-based teaching, Art Professor Jim Toia is our Honorary Chair this year. Our volunteer committee is already working diligently to put the many pieces into place for another arts-packed weekend on September 15 and 16, 2018.

The festival attracts artists and art-lovers together from an ever-expanding radius. Over 80 Artists will be selected to participate in our art exhibition, and may also compete in our Juried Art Gallery Contest.

The festival abounds with free music, talent, performances, free demos and art that comes alive along the Delaware & Lehigh river confluence.

Riverside Festival of the Arts is expecting more than 10,000 in attendance this year. Sponsorships are needed to fund all aspects of marketing, promotion, logistics, musician performances, and children's interactive art experiences. Of course there will be another exciting Plein Air (open air) Art Contest.

With your sponsorship, you will enjoy enhanced customized levels of exposure and publicity this year. Please have a look at the sponsorships on the back. We are accepting sponsorships into early September.

The arts are alive and well in Easton, thanks to your support.

Thank you for your tax-deductible contribution to the Riverside Festival of the Arts!

Much appreciated,

Jim Toia, Honorary Chairperson
Director, Lafayette College Community Based Teaching Program and Chair, Karl Stirner Arts Trail
